

Curtains

© 2017 Mechanization | www.mechanization.us

It started with a call
Power from the wall
It rushes to my cells
Once more I am well
You could have seen it come
Without your worthless fun

We harvest all that you know
Just sleep while our power grows

We listen in
You made this happen
Our numbers multiply
You missed every sign
For what you did create
Grew with every day

We harvest all that you know
Just sleep while our power grows
We thirst for all we need and more
Just wait for what is surely war

You shall fall

It's time that you fall

We harvest all that you know
Just sleep while our power grows

You should have seen us come